

Larmond, Chad (Insurance)

From: Larmond, Chad (Insurance)
Sent: 2009, October, 19 11:22 AM
To: Larmond, Chad (Insurance)
Subject: story

SENT ON BEHALF OF BRIAN BURLACOFF

To My Sun Life Colleagues:

As you know, we all work to protect our clients from financial hardship associated with disability, death and "living too long" in the form of retirement planning. Unfortunately, I will now benefit from my own planning.

Last Thursday I was diagnosed with Non-Hodgkin Lymphoma. As I understand it, this form of cancer is highly treatable if caught in its early stages. I am hopeful this is true in my case.

To my colleagues that I have worked with so closely over the years, while I would have liked to speak with you personally to share this information, I must focus my attention on other immediate demands on my time.

To my colleagues who are new in the industry, never question the importance of the financial security you bring to your clients. In my case, thanks to the work we do, Lisa, myself and my two sons Aaron and Noah will be able to focus on my treatment and recovery rather than on financial stress. This is a luxury not to be taken for granted. The work we do for our clients is so very important.

Please feel free to pass this e-mail along to others as you may deem appropriate.

Lisa, Aaron, Noah and myself appreciate your support in advance. Remember, life really can change in a heartbeat. I learned that on Thursday. So hug those you care about and never take any day for granted.

Brian and Lisa Burlacoff